BCA “Jodo Shinshu” Culture

By Rev. J.K. Hirano

Concerning Compassion, there is a difference between the Path of Sages and the Pure Land Path. Compassion in the Path of Sages is to pity: commiserate with, and care for beings. It is extremely difficult, however, to accomplish the saving of others just as one wishes.

Compassion in the Pure Land Path should be understood as first attaining Buddhahood quickly through saying the nembutsu and, with the mind of great love and compassion, freely benefitting sentient beings as one wishes. However, much love and pity we may feel in our present lives, it is hard to save others as we wish; hence, such compassion remains unfulfilled. Only the saying of the nembutsu, then, is the mind of great compassion that is thoroughgoing.

Thus were his words.

A Record in Lament of Divergences: Chapter 4

Group Culture is one of the most powerful forces on the planet. We sense its presence inside successful businesses, championship teams and thriving families, and we sense when it's absent or toxic.

The Culture Code: Dan Coyle

I wrote this article a few years ago. However, since our temple and BCA temples are trying to get back to a pre-pandemic open temple system, I would really like us to remember what I hope we will strive for as a temple culture (Sangha).

What is Culture?

- Culture
- noun
- cul·ture \ 'kəl-cher'
- Definition of culture
- 1a: the customary beliefs, social forms, and material traits of a racial, religious, or social group
also: the characteristic features of everyday existence (such as diversions or a way of life) shared by people in a place or time, ie., popular culture, Southern culture
- b: the set of shared attitudes, values, goals, and practices that characterizes an institution or organization a corporate culture focused on the bottom line

- c: the set of values, conventions, or social practices associated with a particular field, activity or societal characteristics studying the effect of computers on print culture. Changing the culture of materialism will take time... – Peggy O'Mara
- d: the integrated pattern of human knowledge, belief, and behavior that depends upon the capacity for learning and transmitting knowledge to succeeding generations

Merriam Webster

I read somewhere that there are Five Characteristics of Culture. This is how I look at our temple culture, which might be a little different than the Merriam Webster definition.

1. Culture is learned: it is not biological or inherited
2. Culture is shared: we essentially "do culture;" it is how we interact with one another.
3. Culture is based on symbols: Namo Amida Butsu, Gassho, Itadakimasu, etc.
4. Culture is integrated: To understand culture you must understand all its parts and how they affect one another.
5. Culture is dynamic: It is constantly changing. However, there are a few fundamental characteristics found in all successful cultures.

Successful Cultures are defined by these characteristics, that are illustrated in Dan Coyle's book The Culture Code:

1. Create Safety: explores how signals of connection generate bonds of belonging and connection.
2. Share Vulnerability: explains how habits of mutual risk drive trusting cooperation
3. Establish Purpose: tells how narratives create shared goals and values

The Beginning of BCA Culture

"Nishi Hongwanji was the first Japanese (Buddhist denomination) to start an American mission, which in itself exemplifies the history of an eastward transmission of the Buddhist teachings (Bukkyo Tozen). This means that American Buddhists have considerable responsibility as pioneers for spreading the teachings around the World."

Bishop Koyu Uchida, Bishop of the Buddhist Mission of North America (1930)

Issei Buddhism in the Americas

Much of what the original Kaikyoshi envisioned for Buddhism in America was changed when the leadership of BCA was changed from the Issei Kaikyoshi and Issei lay leaders to the Nisei. The Issei Kaikyoshi and most of the leaders of the BCA were locked away in special interrogation camps. The teenage Nisei, out of fear and desperation, created the very Christianized Americanized Buddhist Churches of America.

Typical BCA Temple Culture 25 year ago

- A building and organization that began with the Japanese immigration into your particular town. (Utah, 1912)
- The place where many of your grandparents and parents family, met for everything from funerals, to Sunday School, dances, holidays (Obon) Hanamatsuri and sports programs. (my grandparents met at the temple, my parents met at the temple)
- Sunday services were followed by Dharma School for kids. (I attended Dharma School, YBA, RAB)

- The major fund raiser for the temple is a food bazaar, Obon bento and possibly a holiday boutique or chow mein, crab feed or sukiyaki dinner. (My children don't live in Salt Lake but fly home to be either at Obon, Bazaar and Holiday Boutique)

At the Salt Lake Buddhist Temple, very few of the one-time large group of third and fourth generation Dharma School students are attending or joining the temple. About ten or fifteen years ago, our Dharma School had 110 registered students, pretty good considering our temple membership was under 150. However, most of those kids are now out of college and I would guess that less than two percent are married with children.

One of my favorite quotes in Jodo Shinshu is from a book written by Rev. Gyodo Haguri; it was translated by Rev. William Masuda. I felt that Rev. Haguri defined what it was to live a Jodo Shinshu Life.

Generally speaking, people are considered to be good and faithful followers if they lead a moral life, attend church services and participate in welfare activities. In Jodo Shinshu Buddhism, however, while these practices are encouraged, they alone do not constitute the Buddhist way of life. What is critically important is that the teachings radically transform our way of thinking and living so that we become true individuals: strong in crisis, humble in success, tender in our feelings and grateful at all times.

Awareness of Self: Rev. Gyodo Haguri

Salt Lake Buddhist Temple is very different from Ogden Buddhist and Honeyville Buddhist Temple, although all three are in the state of Utah.

Idaho Oregon Buddhist Temple is different than Oregon Buddhist Temple although in the same state.

San Francisco Buddhist Temple is very different from Fresno or Los Angeles Buddhist Temples.

Each BCA temple is different, racially, politically and educationally. However, the culture of each temple must be based upon the teachings of Jodo Shinshu Hongwanji Ha if we are to continue as a united Jodo Shinshu organization.

Besides the teachings set forth by Jodo Shinshu Hongwanji Ha, each of our temples must put these objectives into their organization.

- 1. Create Safety: explores how signals of connection generate bonds of belonging and connection.
- 2. Share Vulnerability: explains how habits of mutual risk drive trusting cooperation.
- 3. Establish Purpose: tells how narratives create shared goals and values.

If our temple and Sangha cannot honor these objectives, I would question whether or not we deserve to have a temple or even the Buddhist Churches of America (BCA). Within BCA, we love to talk about the diversity or family orientation of our temples. However, I believe Soka Gakkai International (SGI) is the largest multicultural Buddhist organization in the United States. There are many things that can be said about their President and leader Daisaku Ikeda, I believe we can take some advice from him in creating our own Jodo Shinshu Temple culture in America.

"None of us can exist in isolation. Our lives and existence are supported by others in seen and unseen ways, be it by parents, mentors or society at large. To be aware of these connections, to feel appreciation for them, and to strive to give something back to society in a spirit of gratitude is the proper way for human beings to live."
Daisaku Ikeda

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

I wanted to start off by thanking all of you for your patience these past two years during this Covid life we have been living. When I think about our lives it was like living in the movie "Groundhog Day;" we would plan for our opening and then something would happen, and we would have to cancel our services and replan our opening over and over and over again. It was wonderful seeing so many of you at our Hanamatsuri service. Being able to listen to Reverend Hirano's Dharma talk live in our temple, with fellow Sangha members was such a wonderful feeling. Thanks to all those who planned and helped put together our wonderful Hanamatsuri service and a special thanks to Ruth K for the awesome goodie bags; it brought back good memories from the past. I am not particularly superstitious, and I do not want to jinx our upcoming plans as we put the past behind us and welcome the new season, but there is an aspiration of hope for our world, nation, and the Sangha with regards to ending the Covid-19 life. History repeats itself and if we think about the Spanish Flu in 1918-1920 which was followed by the roaring twenties. Our board has been planning many of our temple's traditional services and gatherings for the upcoming months in hopes that we can gather and make memories for another upgraded Roaring 2020's.

As a board, we are committed to and have been planning our Obon Festival followed with our Obon Service the following day this year and hopefully will resume our regular services in the fall. Conditions permitting, I hope that everyone is excited to return to the temple and rejoin together as a Sangha, dedicate themselves to the teachings of the Buddha, and strive to preserve the Dharma.

Thanks for always supporting our Temple through both your donations and volunteer efforts. We have certainly overcome a number of major hardships during the past two years, and it is all due to the dedicated efforts of our Sangha. Just as there is a time for every season, the board has been striving to sow the seeds for an exceptional year, and this time, we are all looking forward to coming together like the golden chain with all three treasures stronger than ever, the Buddha, the Dharma, and all of us, the Sangha.

In Gassho,
James

TO THE OGDEN BUDDHIST CHURCH SANGHA:

A sincere thank you for your generosity and selfless Dana/contributions to the Marshall fire relief fund for the member victims of the Tri-State/Denver Buddhist Temple. We have forwarded $1300.00 to their Temple Board for disbursement to their affected members. Earlier this year, our own BWA previously forwarded $500 to this same relief fund.

Your demonstration of compassion and empathy will surely be appreciated by these individuals in their time of need.

Many thanks to Betty for tracking all these individual contributions for this campaign.

Thank you once again for your compassionate response to our Mountain States district partners.

Mask Donation to the Ogden Buddhist Church

By Kris Y.

The Ogden Buddhist Church would like to recognize and THANK the Utah Division of Multicultural Affairs, the COVID-19 Multicultural Advisory Committee, and the Utah Department of Health for their donation of 1,500 KN95 masks for adults and 500 KN95 masks for children to our temple! They were also able to donate a case of hand sanitizer. This donation has been instrumental to our Sanga in doing our part to help reduce the spread of COVID-19, and its next variant, in our community. We would like to specifically thank Claudia L. for her organization of the delivery of these masks to our multicultural community as a whole!

We were able to deliver and hand out all the masks to our Sanga. Although it seems most of Utah has gone back to business as normal, please remember to be safe when going out or gathering as a group. Use these masks where you feel it is in the best interest of YOUR health!

The Ogden Buddhist Church is always willing to support our community. If you see that another organization or individual needs assistance, please let any board member know. We can make contact with them and decide on a plan of assistance. We all need to work together to keep our community safe, healthy, and happy!

Sunday, May 22, 2022
Service at 10:00 a.m.

This service is to celebrate the birth of Shinran Shonin (1173-1262), the founder of our sect. It is also called Fujimatsuri in reference to the Wisteria flower which represents our sect. Unlike other flowers which seem to stand up straight and tall when in full blossom, the wisteria hangs down, when in full bloom, as if in humility. This teaches us that a true and real human being does not stand up in arrogance at their accomplishments, but rather realizes that they have so much for which to be grateful.

In connection with this very special observance, we hold Shosanshiki also know as Hatsumairi (First visit ceremony) or Infant Presentation service. This service is held for all children born into our Sangha over the past year. It is a day to present the child to Buddha and to the Sangha, and to celebrate their first step upon following the Dharma.
